BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Exercises functional and management responsibilities for the Wing Aircrew Flight Equipment (AFE) program. Provides expert technical advice to the Operations and Wing Commander concerning all AFE matters. Integrates the AFE program into flying operations under a Total Force Integrated association with the 1st Fighter Wing. Plans, coordinates, and directs the activities of subordinate and augmented personnel. Supports peacetime and combat missions and augments Intelligence and Combat Search and Rescue Forces functions. Identifies development and sustainment needs and coordinates facility requirements which support aircrew life-saving, rescue and recovery, and secure-communications equipment. Liaisons with authorities to coordinate munitions storage and equipment inspection and maintenance activities. Develops and applies Memorandums of Understanding, Host Tenant Support Agreements, Inter-service Support Agreements, Operational Plans and other support agreements to support flying activities. Ensures Precision Measurement Equipment Laboratory (PMEL) equipment is inventoried, documented and scheduled for calibration cycles. Monitors, oversees and/or accomplishes the inventorying of all munitions, preparation of hazardous material, shipping documents, scheduling of transport of munitions, and documentation of appropriate forms. Performs material, fiscal, and facility resource management responsibilities. Serves as an academic instructor for all aircrew members. Ensures all aircrew flight equipment, survival and rescue-recovery equipment meets strict airworthiness standards through oversight of testing and certifications in accordance with all technical orders. Oversees and performs pre-mission equipment certifications and conducts mission termination inspections. Certifies all documentation and ensures periodic equipment inspections are conducted to comply with flight safety and optimum performance standards. Performs other duties as assigned.
